

Schedule

Drop off art and form: Bring your art, registration form and labels (included in this form) on Friday, February 14, from 4pm-6pm to the Chadron Arts Center located at the intersection of King & East 4th Streets. If you are unavailable that day, Whitney Tewahade can accept your art on Monday and Tuesday afternoons (before Feb. 14) between 4pm-5:30pm only, at Chadron Open Art located at 223 Main Street.

Note the different addresses for these two art drop off points!

Weekend Art Show: The Chadron Arts Center at King & East 4th Streets has been the main site of our weekend shows for the last three years. We are filled with gratitude for this ongoing collaboration.

February 15: Show opens! 9am-5pm

February 16 1pm-4pm

Please come and enjoy the show

Pick up Art: February 16: 4-5pm. The Chadron Arts Center is a multiuse space; we must take down the show on Sunday and have the space clean before 6pm.

Please, pick up your art by Sunday at 5:00pm.

Theme

This year's theme is Nature: up close and personal. As in previous shows, we are celebrating the intersection of art and science. Observe something from nature. Maybe your subject is something very small, or maybe a close up view of something very large. Experiment and have fun!

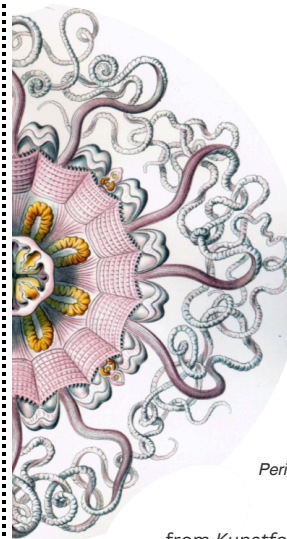

Guidelines

All ages are welcome. Original artwork that explores the theme will be accepted. Participants are limited to two pieces per person.

New for 2025

We will be partnering with Chadron Open Art (223 Main Street) to offer a longer exhibition after our weekend show closes. If you would like to participate in this, please let us know when you drop off your art and we will add you to the list. If you choose to participate, we will transport your art to the gallery after our weekend show at the Chadron Arts Center closes. Because of space limitation we can accept a limited number of pieces.

We ask that if you wish to show your work in the gallery that all 2D work be framed and ready to hang. We cannot accept unframed pieces for the gallery. Thank you for understanding.
